LOSS OF THE COLIMA

Details of the Disaster Not Yet Obtainable.

VERY UNSATISFACTORY ADVICES.

Officials of the Pacific Mail Company Will Give Out No Information, but From Private Sources It Is Learned That One Hundred and Sixty Passengers and Crew Are Still Unaccounted For.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 30.—Only meager and unsatisfactory advice have been received here regarding the foundering of the Pacific Mail steamer at Manzanilla, Mex., Tuesday night. The officials of the Pacific Mail persist in the statement that they have received no information of the wreck of the steamer, and they have tried to discredit entirely the statements of the disaster.

Several dispatches have been received by the Merchants' Exchange and by private shipping firms, all confirming the tale of the ocean tragedy, and varying only in the minuteness of the information conveyed. Captain Pitts of the steamer San Juan telegraphed that he picked up a boat containing 19 persons, 14 of whom were passengers and five members of the crew of the Colima.

The rescued boatload was taken to Manzanilla, and then the steamer San Juan started out again in search of other boats from the Colima, the presumption being that the balance of the passengers and crew were afloat in the other boats of the Colima. The occupants of the boat picked up were as follows:

Cabin passengers—Domingo Albano, Cushing, Thornton, Sariaba, Rutz. Steerage passengers—John Crew, H. W. Boyd, Antonio Rome, R. Rose, S. O'Reil, G. Rowan, Jose A. Salia, L. L. Zancare.

Crew—O. Hansen, third officer; A. Carpenter, A. K. Richardson, storekeeper; Raymond Aviles, J. M. Morel. The names Sariaba and Rutz do not appear on the steamer's list of passengers, sailing from this port, the presumption being that they joined the steamer at Mazatlan. There were two Cushings on board, brothers, and a lady and gentleman, each named Thornton. No initials of survivors were given in the brief telegraph message.

The latest intelligence regarding the disaster received here was in cipher message to a local shipping firm containing the statement of Third Officer Hansen, who was in charge of the boat, picked up. Hansen stated that about 11:15 Tuesday night, as the Colima was about 50 miles from Manzanilla and between the port of Punta St. Almo, an accident occurred to her machinery. Hansen had not time to investigate the trouble, but he believed a boiler had burst. The Colima was put about, but began to sink rapidly.

A scene of wild confusion followed. One boat was lowered and most of the others swung out, but so far as Hansen knows, the boat he commanded was the only one which got clear of the sinking ship. The Colima quickly foundered, and to avoid confusion, Hansen's boat quickly pulled clear, and the night being dark, it was impossible to tell whether the other boats got away from the ship or not.

If these boats only got clear away, the calmness of the sea and the low sandy beach 30 miles distance would enable them to make a safe landing in a few hours. As the passengers were all asleep, however, Hansen fears few escaped. One hundred and sixty passengers and crew are still unaccounted for.

The following passengers from San Francisco landed safely at Mazatlan before the Colima proceeded toward Manzanilla: E. W. McCutcheon, W. C. McCutcheon, J. W. C. Maxwell, H. M. A. Miller, L. F. Bell, U. S. American, G. V. Gray and P. F. Crisby.

All day long the office of the Pacific Mail and the telegraph companies and newspapers have been filled with anxious friends of passengers and crew, making tearful inquiries about their friends. Many of the scenes were pitiful in the extreme, and the most gloomy forebodings prevailed despite the assurances of the officials that the Colima's machinery was in excellent condition, having been inspected just previous to her leaving, that her commanders and officers were skilled seamen and the chances were in favor of the safety of their friends.

Among the passengers unaccounted for are: Professor Harold Whiting, Mrs. Whiting, Miss Rose Whiting and two children of Berkeley. Professor Whiting occupied a chair in the State university. Another is J. E. Chittrey of Seattle, who was on his way south to interest South American planters in a new steamship line between Central America and Puget sound.

The following is the list of passengers and destination:

The News Confirmed.

COLON, Colombia, May 30.—The news of the wreck of the Pacific Mail ship Colima off Manzanillo, Mex., is confirmed here. Beyond the report that many lives have been lost no further details are obtainable.

ABOUT ONE HUNDRED DROWNED.

Further Details of the Wreck of the Steamer Dom Pedro.

CORRUNA, May 30.—Additional details have been received here of the loss of the French steamer Dom Pedro off Cape Corrubedo, on the west coast of Galicia, on Monday evening. The weather at the time of the accident was fine and the sea was calm, but the Dom Pedro struck on rocks which are difficult to locate except by local men, even in fine weather.

There was a terrible shock as the steamer struck and a fearful panic followed, especially among the women, who screamed wildly for help, causing all the other passengers to lose their heads. They tried to seize the boats, life preservers and other objects capable of supporting them in the water. In order to prevent the passengers from sinking the boats in lowering them, the captain was obliged to threaten them with a revolver in his hand. Many persons kept afloat after the steamer foundered by clinging to wreckage until rescued by boats of fishermen, who put off from the shore.

It is estimated that about 100 people, most of whom were passengers, lost their lives. The Dom Pedro was to have taken on board 200 additional passengers at Carril. They were nearly all emigrants bound for the Argentine republic. It is reported that the captain and the 26 survivors are being cared for by the authorities ashore.

JEWISH RABBI DROPS DEAD.

His Wife on Learning the News Becomes a Raving Maniac.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 30.—Louis Sherefsky, a Jewish rabbi, in charge of the Shalom Tefilla was stricken with death Wednesday afternoon just after finishing his sermon and his wife becomes a raving maniac. Tuesday and Wednesday were holidays in the Jewish church and the rabbi's congregation was observing it in an appropriate manner and almost every member had gathered in the church.

The rabbi had complained of not being well before he entered the pulpit and the weather was intensely hot which added to his indisposition. He labored hard during his sermon, hesitating in his speech painfully and occasionally stopping altogether for brief periods. He then sank into a chair completely exhausted. After drinking a little water he started to walk home, reached his door and died in a few moments.

His wife during the church service was ministering to the needs of sick people and did not get to church. Just as she was entering the door a neighbor told her the terrible news. With a cry she rushed into the house and threw herself upon the dead body of her husband. In endearing terms she pleaded with him to speak to her, tore the clothing from his body, raised his eye-lids and chafed his hands.

Then ensued a terrible scene. She completely lost her reason and became a raving maniac, broke the chairs, demolished a lot of furniture and smashed the dishes. All the women were frightened and ran from the house. Men entered, but could do nothing. The situation is not changed, and her reason is probably gone forever.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 30.—Theodore Durant was arraigned in the superior court for the murder of Blanche Lamont and Minnie Williams, pleading not guilty in each. Both trials were set for July 22, the district attorney selecting to try the defendant first for the murder of Blanche Lamont. Counsel for the defense gave notice that they would apply for a change of venue before the date fixed for the trial. Durant maintained his air of unconcern throughout the brief court proceedings.

ARMENIAN UPRISING.

Turkey Endeavoring to Prevent It if Possible.

THE REVOLUTIONISTS CUT OFF.

Communication Stopped Between the Leaders in Persia and Their Agents in Armenia—Caravans Seized by Turkish Officials. The Lives of the Christian People Are in Greater Peril Now Than Ever.

DJULFA, Russia, May 30.—Copyrighted, 1895, by the Associated Press.—The special correspondent of the Associated Press who is investigating the situation in Armenia has furnished the following correspondence:

"The Turkish government is taking prompt measures to prevent the uprising of the Armenian revolutionists next month. All roads leading from Persia to Van have been closed by order of the Turkish government, the intention being to shut off communication between the revolutionary leaders in Persia and their agents in Armenia. The last caravan that tried to get through to Van was seized by Turkish officials.

The seizure of the caravan to Van has caused no end of consternation to the Armenian revolutionists in Persia, as this action seriously interferes with some of their important arrangements. However, they assure me that other roads through the mountains will be found and that the work will go steadily forward.

"Within the past week the Turkish consul at Sauten-Balak, in Persia, tried to cross over into Turkey with an armed escort of 12 men, but he was turned back by the Kurds, who held possession of all the roads. At the same time the Turkish officials in the towns near the border were chased out of the country by the Kurds. They took refuge in Raveiduz, where they are now. The Kurds have warned them not to return. The Armenians hope that the Kurds and Turks will get into a fight and exterminate each other.

"A reasonable explanation for this activity of the Kurds may be found in a letter from Sheikh Abdel-Kadr, recently written to his brother in the mountains of Kurdistan. Abdel Kadr announces that the sultan had appointed him to command the Hamidieh regiment of a regular Kurdish cavalry, together with a force of regular Turkish troops, and that there was to be a great war, during which he and his troops were to capture the Russian city of Kars.

"Many well informed persons in western Persia believe that Asia Minor is on the verge of a great religious war which the Sultan of Turkey is fostering in order to retain his prestige among the Mohammedans, many of whom have been for some time grumbling at him for his lukewarmness in the cause of their religion and threatening to deprive him of his caliphate.

"As eight months have passed since the Sassoun and Moosh massacres and nothing has been done in consequence by the Turkish government, the moslems of Persia are beginning to believe that nothing will be done, and that Europe's protests count for nothing. As a result the Persians are beginning to talk of having a massacre of Christians on their account. I have been frankly told in Persia that if nothing else is done to punish the Turks for the Sassoun affair, the zealous moslems of Persia will seek to win the favor of their god by scourging and driving out the Christians. Were it not for the strong hand of the Persian government and the good will and protection of the shah, the Christian population would be murdered within a week.

"My information is to the effect that Bitlis is on the brink of a massacre and that trouble may be looked for at any moment. This news, from a different source, is of the same character as the news which I received last week announcing that the Christians at Van were within an inch of a massacre.

"The situation in Armenia has grown no better for the presence of the commission of inquiry; as a matter of fact, it has grown worse, and the Christian population in eastern Turkey is at the present moment in greater peril than it was the week before the Sassoun massacre. Not only that, but the peril to Christian people has spread eastward into Persia. Near Oroumnia, a few days ago, the village of Balouchan was attacked by 400 Kurds, and several men were killed.

"The village of Balouchan is now deserted by all its inhabitants except a few armed men, who are guarding the empty houses. Another attack is looked for daily, as the Kurds have sworn that they mean to remove Balouchan from the face of nature in revenge for the death of one of their men. There is no doubt whatever that they will carry out their threat."

WALKED FROM A TRAIN.

Little Girl Fatally Hurt While Asleep. Unfortunate Family.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., May 30.—Olia Robertson, aged 11, of Brownstown, who was on route home with her mother from Nebraska, walked in her sleep from a Pullman express near Royal Center while the train was traveling 60 miles an hour, and sustained fatal injuries.

Her mother was also asleep at the time, and the first to discover the child's absence was the brakeman. The child was picked up bleeding and unconscious and can not live. Her father died recently in Nebraska, where they had gone with the expectation of making a home.

The crops failed, the family almost starved and the father died of a broken heart.

A SOLDIER'S FUNERAL.

The Late Secretary Gresham's Remains Honored in Washington.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—The remains of Walter Q. Gresham, the dead secretary of state, accompanied by President Cleveland and every member of his cabinet, and the sorrowing family left Washington at 12:15 o'clock on a special train for Chicago, where the final interment will take place.

The funeral services here were absolutely devoid of ostentation, but this fact only served to deepen the profound impression which it created. In life Secretary Gresham had loved most the military career of his ardent youth, and of all his titles had been fondest of that of general, which he had won on the battlefield. In death he was wrapped in the stars and stripes and given a soldier's funeral.

The whole city mourned the nation's loss. Every department of the government was closed, every flag in Washington at half mast. All the regular troops in and about Washington, cavalry, artillery and infantry escorted the remains to the railroad station.

Mrs. Gresham, the stricken wife, was so overcome by her grief that she was unable to attend the services at the White House.

The casket was borne to the executive mansion through the files of military, and there deposited in the east room. Mr. Cleveland and his cabinet as honorary pallbearers accompanied the remains thither. The east room had been draped with a profusion of American flags and decorated with palms and potted flowers. The black catafalque and the black seal on which it rested were banked with the rarest and most beautiful flowers.

The assemblage was of the most distinguished character. All the members of the diplomatic corps in full court costume, resplendent with decorations and many of them stiff with gold lace and braid, the officers of the army and navy in brilliant uniforms and all the high civil officials of the government, the president and his cabinet, the judges of the supreme court, senators, representatives and other dignitaries and their wives were present to pay their last tribute to the honored dead. All were profoundly moved by the simplicity of the service. It consisted merely of the reading of the funeral service of the Methodist Episcopal church by Bishop Hurst, a personal friend of the secretary.

"When the benediction was said the strains of Cardinal Newman's beautiful hymn, 'Lead, Kindly Light,' trembled on the air and it was over. With bowed heads those present took a long, last look at the well known features and departed. As the funeral cortege emerged from the White House grounds the long stretch of cavalry with their heavy yellow plumes, the artillery and the infantry drawn up along the avenue saluted and the scarlet coated marine band played 'Nearer My God to Thee.'

The military then took their places under command of Major General Ruger and slowly led the way down the avenue to the station preceded by a band of 40 pieces mounted on heavy horses. There were four troops of cavalry from Fort Meyer, the marine corps from the navy yard, three companies of infantry, four gun batteries from Washington barracks and four batteries from Fort Meyer, in all about 1,500 men.

As they swung down the avenue to the solemn strains of funeral dirges, the sidewalks and every available bit of space in the windows overlooking the avenue were lined with people. As they heard the muffled drums and saw the lowered flags, the multitude was awed and reverently lifted their hats as the cortege passed. While the casket was being conveyed to the train the Marine band played 'Safe in the Arms of Jesus.'

As the funeral train left the station the military departed, and the city became quiet and its streets almost deserted.

WAGES OF SIN.

Guilty Wife and Her Lover Shot by the Injured Husband.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., May 30.—Joseph L. Roberts, proprietor of the Belmont House, on Vaughn street, shot his wife through the head early in the morning and also put a bullet into Edgar D. Stoddard, a well known stablekeeper, who was discovered by Roberts with Mrs. Roberts. The enraged man fired at Stoddard as he lay upon the bed. The ball passed through his ear, close to the head.

Roberts then turned the weapon upon his wife, shooting her through the right side of the head. He intended killing his cook, but was prevented, there being only two shots in the revolver. Mrs. Roberts was taken to Cottage hospital, where she lies in a critical condition. There is a possibility of inflammation of the brain setting in. Roberts is confined in a cell at police headquarters.

Testing the St. Louis.

NEW YORK, May 30.—The St. Louis left the Cape of Delaware on her builders' sea trial Monday morning at daylight, after having adjusted her compasses. She steamed constantly 60 hours at varying speeds to thoroughly test her engines, boilers and all the auxiliaries. The result has been most satisfactory to builders and owners; not a warm bearing or a hitch. No attempt was made to attain her highest speed; the trip was for the purpose of putting everything in order for her initial trip to Southampton on June 3. There was much fog for the first two days.

THE INTERSTATE CONVENTION.

Resolutions Adopted Deeming It Unwise

For an Interstate Suspension at the Present Time—President Penna Advises Such Action at the Opening of the Convention. Strike About Over in West Virginia.

COLUMBUS, O., May 30.—The interstate convention of miners opened here with 65 delegates present. The states represented are: Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Virginia. Only about a dozen of the delegates are from outside Ohio.

The feature of the forenoon's session was the conservative speech of National President Phil H. Penna, who deprecated the declaration of a national strike at this time, in view of the failure of the Pittsburgh miners to maintain the 69-cent rate.

Mr. Penna counseled coolness under circumstances which might appear sufficient to drive men to desperation. Mr. Penna clearly indicated that, in his judgment, a compromise based on the prevailing price in the Pittsburgh districts was inevitable.

By a vote of 133 to 30, the convention adopted the following report by the committee on resolutions:

WHEREAS, We now recognize the fact that 60 cents per ton is the price now established in the Pittsburgh field, and with the number of men now working it would be impossible at this time to again get them all to suspend; and,

WHEREAS, We also recognize the fact that the miners of Indiana, both black and bituminous, have agreed by contract to work, the bituminous miners until July 15, 1895, and the black coal miners to May 1, 1896; and,

WHEREAS, We believe the position of Illinois, the northern part of which is under contract for one year, and a considerable part of West Virginia, is such that they could not, or would not, suspend at this time, even if called upon to do so by this convention; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That we deem it unwise that an interstate suspension be ordered at this time.

Mining Trouble About Settled.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., May 30.—There are good prospects that the mining troubles along the Norfolk and Western railroad are nearing an end, and the business men along the line are jubilant, as there has been a stagnation in business since the strike began. Coal is now being moved by the Norfolk and Western north.

WOULD BE RAIDERS ARRESTED.

More Excitement at Roby and a Test Case Will Be Made.

CHICAGO, May 30.—The Hammond Fair association people caused the arrest of six of Mooney & Boland's men who were preparing to make a raid on the Roby track. The six men went out to the track. When they arrived at the gate the ticket collectors would not allow them to enter. The officials inside were notified and telegraphed to Hammond that six men who said they were constables from the town were on the outside of the track. Constable Henry Burge had state warrants ready for service if the men should appear, and upon receiving the telephone message started with three assistants for the track. Arriving at the track he placed them under arrest and took them to Hammond where they were held in bonds of $600 each on the charge of impersonating an officer.

Just after the third race, Constable Wall of Hammond marched into the ring with three assistants and placed Frank Williams, who runs a book, and three of his employees under arrest. He stated that he arrested them for gambling and that the authorities at Hammond will make a test case of it. The men were taken to Hammond where bail was procured and the case will come to trial in a day or two.

SPANISH OUTRAGE.

The State Department Will Have Another Question to Handle.

NEW YORK, May 30.—August Bolton, a seaman who was released from a Spanish jail at Santiago, Cuba, after two months' imprisonment, through the efforts of the American consul, Mr. Hyatt, has arrived here on the schooner Eliza J. Pendleton. He says he is going to put in a claim against the Spanish government for injury to his health. Close confinement and excessive heat, he declares, brought on a fever which has made unfit to follow the sea for a living. He says he bought a 15-foot sailboat at Cape Haytien, Hayti, and spent three months fishing, off the coast.

In February he and a shipmate were caught in a gale in their little craft, and blown over to the Cuban coast. They landed at Guantanamo on Feb. 15, and, finding nothing to do there, sailed for Santiago, where they arrived on Feb. 25. Bolton went ashore, and was arrested by the Spaniards, who declared that he had aided the insurrectionists. After his release the American consul got him a berth as a sailor on the Pendleton. Bolton says he is an American citizen.

AMSTERDAM, O., May 30.—The steamer Russell caught fire, 30 miles off this port and was towed in by the New Orleans and Milwaukee. Both boats pumped water into the burning steamer, but she had to be scuttled in the harbor she is a complete wreck.

"None of our fellow-citizens, rich or poor, great or humble, can escape the consequences of a degeneration of our currency."—President Cleveland.

Poor Billie McKinley! The Buckeye Republican convention this week demonstrated very clearly that if he gets Ohio in the Presidential contest next year it will be by the grace of the Foraker crowd.

"Sound and absolutely safe money is the life blood of our country's strength and prosperity," says President Cleveland in a recent letter. The humblest citizen is interested in the country's prosperity, and should stand firm for sound money.

It is not for any particular kind of coinage that sound money men contend, pertinent remarks an exchange, but for a system that shall make and keep every dollar of every kind worth as much as any dollar of any other kind.

The speech which Secretary Carlisle delivered at Covington, with the exception of the preface, was a very fair composition.—Fleming Gazette.

The leading journals of the country, irrespective of party, seem to regard it as one of the clearest and most forcible arguments yet delivered for sound money. Perhaps they are not good judges on such matters, though. Will some one please have them consult the editor of the Fleming Gazette hereafter?

SIR KNIGHT THOMAS.

Tennessee Templars Honor a Brother From This City—The Nashville American's Comments.

[Nashville American]

Nashville and La Valette Commanderies held stated meetings on Friday, in commemoration of the ascension. Most Eminent Deputy Grand Master W. LaRue Thomas of the Grand Encampment of the United States was present and received the official recognition of his exalted station. Past Grand Commanders Morton B. Howell, H. C. Hensley, W. F. Foster and Thomas O. Morris were present to assist in the honors. Good speeches were made by them in response to a most excellent one made by the distinguished visitor, both in the Asylum and at the festive board. Sir Knight Thomas has spent a week with his brethren of Tennessee, who hold him in very high esteem and will be glad to see him receive the first place at the Triennial in Boston. He had made many new friends in visiting the various bodies of the city, and especially by his visit to the Home and the speeches delivered in its behalf. He has been the constant defender of Masonic Homes wherever he has gone, and is entitled to much credit for the success of the great Kentucky Home. Sir Knight Thomas is a citizen of Maysville, Ky., and enjoys the distinction of being one of the finest looking and most popular men in the famous Bluegrass region.

River News.

Over six feet of water at Pittsburg at last accounts, a slight rise.

The Keystone State on her down trip grounded at Deadman, and was delayed a few hours.

The Enos Taylor, formerly in the Augusta and Maysville trade, is doing a fine business in Kentucky river.

The Ruth for Portsmouth, Telegraph for Pomeroy and Keystone State for Pittsburg are due up to-night. Down: Bonanza.

An immense amount of coal is loaded at Pittsburg in addition to many thousands of tons of manufactured iron, glass and chinaware, which is awaiting water to come out to be distributed among the Ohio and Mississippi ports. It is doubtful if enough towboats can be had to bring it out on the first water.

Rev. George Gowan of Lancaster will assist Rev. Wm. Stanley of Flemingsburg in a protracted meeting, commencing next Sunday.

CROP PROSPECTS IN THIS STATE.

What the Kentucky Weather Service Says of the Outlook at the Present Time.

The weather conditions of the past week were, upon the whole, favorable to all crops. The average temperature was considerably less than the normal, and on the 23d severe frosts occurred in a few localities, some slight damage being reported from them. Less than an average amount of sunshine was received, and during the last half of the week rain fell throughout the greater portion of the State. These showers, though much needed and very beneficial, were not sufficient to give a normal amount of precipitation in most localities, though, in some few sections, the heavy rains of Sunday resulted in an excess.

The general tone of reports received to-day is much more encouraging than that shown by those of last week. Vegetation of all kinds is making some progress toward recovery from the set-back it received from the cool wave earlier in the month. All crops are still behind their normal condition at this season, but with favorable weather conditions from now on they will recover very rapidly.

While there are still many complaints of damage from cut-worms, it is evident that the ravages of this pest are rapidly diminishing. Many correspondents state that the worms have decreased in numbers, and a few that they have entirely disappeared. It is believed that within the next ten days reports of damage from them will have practically ceased. The principal effect of their presence will be to make crops which have suffered from them very late in coming to maturity since much replanting has been rendered necessary by them.

The reports as to the condition of wheat are somewhat conflicting, but it is evident that the average outlook is slightly less favorable than it was sometime ago. There are many complaints of rust this week and the Hessian fly, which was reported from only a few counties last week, appears to be gradually spreading to other sections of the State. Except in a few localities, no serious injury from it has yet been reported. Generally speaking, the present outlook for the crop is fairly favorable.

The growth of corn has been retarded by unfavorable influences to a greater extent than any other crop. The portion which escaped the cut worms was damaged by frost, and some time will be required for it to recover from the effects of the cold. Its progress during the past week was trifling, but with warmer weather it will make a rapid growth. A very large portion of the crop was so damaged by worms as to make replanting necessary, and a great deal of this work was accomplished during the week. Many farmers were obliged to replant a second time. The prospects are that corn will be very late this season on account of these drawbacks, but the general opinion of farmers is, that, with seasonable weather, a good crop can be made.

The weather conditions have been favorable to the transplanting of tobacco, and a great deal of this work was done during the week. Transplanting is now progressing in all the tobacco raising counties except the extreme easterly ones. In the southern counties the plants are of good size and very plentiful, but in the central and eastern section, they are reported to be small and scarce in some localities. Some reports of damage from worm and insects are received.

Oats and barley are generally reported to be in promising condition.

Hemp is doing well and has attained an average growth of about six inches.

Garden products are making very slow progress toward recovery from the effects of the recent cold. Much replanting has been necessary, and the outlook is that all crops of this kind will be very late. Potatoes appear to have suffered less than other garden truck, and in many localities, they are reported to be in excellent condition.

Pastures and meadows have been improved by the recent rains and are generally very good.

The outlook for fruits remains practically the same as that reported last week. There is quite a general complaint that apples are dropping off in large numbers.

Public Examination.

The Primary Department in "Haywood" will be publicly examined Friday morning from ten to twelve o'clock.

A good idea of the methods of instruction adopted in that institution can be obtained by being present. The public generally and especially parents wishing to make a good selection of a school for their children are cordially invited to be present.

The Modern Mother.

Has found that her little ones are improved more by the pleasant laxative, Syrup of Figs, when in need of the laxative effect of a gentle remedy, than by any other, and that it is more acceptable to them. Children enjoy it and it benefits them. The true remedy, Syrup of Figs, is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

Big Shipment of Brick.

Captain N. Cooper has lately shipped 400,000 brick to Georgetown, Ky. This is one of the biggest sales of brick sent out of Maysville for some time. They will be used in the new college building the Baptists are erecting at that point.

The annual conference of Maysville District, M. E. Church, South, is in session at Moorefield. Rev. T. W. Watts is in attendance.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

A BANJO PLAYER.

He Got Too Fresh on the Steamer Bonanza and Was "Saulted" by the Mate.

A colored banjo player hailing by the name of Horace Hardin boarded the steamer Bonanza Tuesday night at this place.

Yesterday morning he rushed into the Mayor's office at Portsmouth with his face cut and bleeding, and demanded the arrest of the mate of the boat. He claimed that while seated on the cabin deck of the steamer after leaving this place he was approached by the mate who knocked him senseless with a club.

After listening to the fellow's story the Portsmouth Mayor informed Hardin that he had no jurisdiction in the case.

A reporter of the Portsmouth Times investigated the affair, and found the facts to be quite different from Hardin's story.

Mate Shipley of the Bonanza stated that the fellow got aboard the boat at Maysville, and refused to pay his fare. He was also very loud and insulting in his talk, and insisted on staying back in the ladies' cabin. The clerk remonstrated, and the fellow showed fight. Shipley was called, and was compelled to club Hardin into submission, after which he was put on the Ohio shore.

Headache.

This distressing malady is caused by a run-down state of the health, and is often a forerunner of other and more dangerous diseases.

Brown's Iron Bitters

cures headache by removing the cause of it; and this is the way it does it.

It purifies and enriches the blood, quickens the action of the kidneys, the liver and the bowels, and gently and pleasantly stimulates the digestive organs, and in fact thoroughly renovates and tones up the whole system—and you have no more headache. And besides it is pleasant to take, and will not stain the teeth nor cause constipation.

Is this not better than dosing yourself with disagreeable and dangerous drugs, which at the best can do no lasting good?

Don't be deceived by imitations. See the crossed red lines on the wrapper. Our book, "How to Live a Hundred Years," tells all about it; should be read by everybody; free for 2c. stamp.

BROWN CHEMICAL CO., BALTIMORE, MD.

HIT THE WRONG MAN.

Fatal Shooting Affray in the State Treasurer's Office in Nashville.

NASHVILLE, May 30.—J. W. Kirk, superintendent of prisons, was accidentally shot in the head by A. J. Vaughn of Williamson county, in the state treasurer's office Wednesday afternoon. Vaughn and John Davis of Marshall county, had some words over an old matter when Vaughn shot at Davis. The bullet missed Davis and struck Kirk, inflicting a dangerous wound.

The wound received by Superintendent Kirk is pronounced mortal. It appears that Vaughn, deputy warden at Coon Creek, discharged a guard named Paxton. The latter, accompanied by Davis, who had recommended Paxton for the place, came to the capitol to see Superintendent Kirk about the matter. Davis and Vaughn had some words, which led to blows. They were separated but again met. Vaughn drew a revolver and fired twice at Davis. He attempted to fire again, when Kirk grasped his arm and the ball intended for Davis struck Kirk. Vaughn and Davis were arrested.

NASHVILLE, May 30.—Bud Donnell, a merchant of Donnell's Chapel, Coffee county, was the victim of a White Cap outrage Tuesday night. While returning on horseback from a trip into Coffee county he was waylaid by masked men and carried into the woods, stripped of his clothing and severely whipped. He was also kicked in the stomach and struck with pistol-butts by his assailants in compelling him to submit to the punishment. His condition is serious. The reason for the outrage has not been learned.

DR. ROBERT N. TAYLOR.

[Introductory to paper of Dr. A. G. Browning, of Maysville, read before the Northeastern Medical Association at its recent annual meeting at Glen Springs.]

Reading a paper in this vicinity forces me to become reminiscent, for which I crave brief indulgence. This little, at this time and place, seems fitting tribute at my hands to Auld Lang Syne.

Just fifteen years ago I was at Esculapia to meet some valued confreres of the existing Licking Valley Medical Association and, as now, contribute my humble mite to a common fund.

They have been years of events; among the saddest of which I class my loss by death, here and there, of cherished professional friends, whose passing away has left great gaps, which life's remaining tenure may never chance to refill.

Rekindled by these surroundings, instinct as they are with the life-work of a professional martyr, come memories of one special loss which, to have been to me greater, must have fallen within my own household and thrown its funeral shadow over my own hearthstone.

Doctor Robert N. Taylor, whose name is yet fresh in the memory of most persons still resident at Glen Springs and vicinity, and honored by whomsoever known—whose genius impressed not only the laity of his section, but his appreciative brethren everywhere as well, was a man and physician the like of whom comes not, every time, to one locality, in one generation.

By nature bright, by culture the peer of any with whom he came in contact; chivalric and the soul of honor; kind, generous and self-sacrificing, he well-nigh filled that measure whose demand is the best of all in human kind!

Some regretful, sorrowing one has said, "the saddest thought of all is, the thought of what might have been!" Applied to Doctor Taylor, the force and scope of this gentle expression can be appreciated fully, only by those who knowing him best valued him the most. If not just within sound of my voice, within easy reach surely, are many who will sadly echo the sentiment that, to human view, my gifted and genial friend died all too soon,—that words of warmest praise may not be thought vain or fulsome.

Just over yonder hills, in an obscure country churchyard, honored but unsung, he sleeps well. Life's fever, brief and fitful, yet teemed with good deeds—deeds which grateful hearts to-day enshrine, whilst earnest prayers will long go up for the soul's repose of loyal, brave Doctor Bob Taylor.

If this weather keeps up a few days, the boys will be hunting the river shores for a swim. In this connection, the following from the Ripley Bee will prove of interest: "A large alligator consigned to a gentlemen in Wheeling from a friend in Florida, gnawed a hole in the box in which it was confined at Parkersburg and escaped into the Ohio river."

J. B. LAWRENCE, a prosperous young farmer living near Winchester, has lost his mind. A special says: "The beginning of his misfortune dates back some months ago, when he attended a meeting of Sanctificationists and embraced the faith of that peculiar sect. His mind became unsettled, he lost all interest in his family and his business and spent most of his time praying. About three weeks ago he attempted suicide by cutting his throat, inflicting a terrible wound, which, however, did not prove fatal. With his recovery from the wound he became violently insane, and it was with difficulty that he was prevented from making another attempt at self-destruction.

ASHLAND News: "Mrs. M. B. Spiller, of Winchester avenue, entertained a number of friends Tuesday evening in honor of Mrs. Levi Fleming and Mrs. John Fleming, who are here from Maysville, the guests of Mrs. Harry Nicholson. It was intended as a surprise to both Mrs. Nicholson and Mrs. Fleming, and such it proved. Mrs. William Nicholson gave a dining Tuesday in honor of Mrs. Fleming and Mrs. John Fleming, of Maysville, and Mrs. Harry Nicholson. The morning was spent in social conversation, and after partaking of an elegant dinner, they in company with Mrs. Spiller took a drive over our beautiful city, and expressed themselves greatly delighted with our park, and our town in general."

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You KNOW that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Fitcher. That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Fitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

The fac-simile signature of Dr. H. Fitcher is on every wrapper.
